The theme this year is based on Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem "Hiawatha". It is presented with the hope of conveying to you the ancient rituals and customs of our American Indians.

DEDICATION

One of the most valued assets here at Woodruff is our Junior Counselor, Mr. Ed Moll.

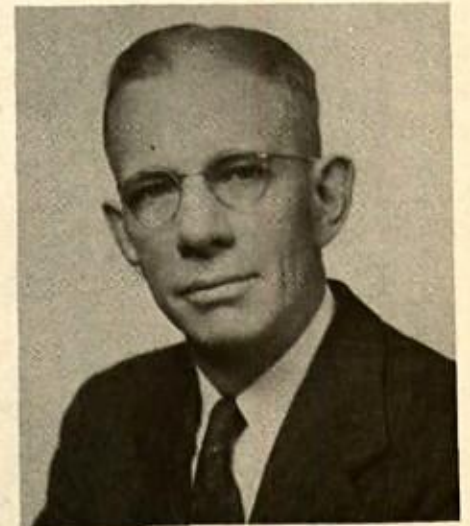

His efforts in furthering the honor and glory of our school has won for him everyone's respect and admiration. We are, therefore, dedicating this 1946 TALISMAN to Mr. Moll.

By the Shores of Lake Peoria
On the River Illinois
Stood the school house known as Kingman
Through its doors in years uncounted
Came young folks for education
Came young Warriors back from battle
Came the young girls shy and clean scrubbed
Many years passed and it grew up
With the city of Peoria.
In it's century of growing
Came a man who was outstanding
Called him by the name of Woodruff.
Growing as the city walls spread
Until Kingman needed stretching,
For its very walls were bursting
So in the year, nineteen forty
The last year when peace was with us
Came the new school on the landscape
Took the name from city history
Took the leader of our tribesman
Who for many years had served us
Took the name of WOODRUFF HIGH SCHOOL
Called their fighting teams the Warriors
Sent those warriors into battle
To return from far off nations
Loyal still to school and city
Sent their young girls into business
Into caring for the wounded
Into teaching little children.
So Woodruff took its place with great ones
Wearing Blue and Gray to battle
Showing union of the nation
These then are the ones I sing of
These the leaders and their people
Of the young and old together
Of the teachers, and the students
In the year when peace again came
Of the school we love so dearly
This I sing of WOODRUFF HIGH SCHOOL

Evelyn Anderson, Treasurer; Una Mae Booth, Secretary; Jack Dixon, President.

OFFICERS OF THE CLASS OF 1946

IN MEMORIAM

"He maketh me to lie down in green pastures—"

William "Bill" Weber, a former student at Woodruff, was taken from us on September 22, 1945. Bill was well known in our halls for his ready smile and friendly ways. He attended Woodruff since he was a freshman and was very active in the vocal music department.

—We miss you, Bill, God rest your soul.—

Roberta Randall, Secretary; Charles Wilhelm, Treasurer; Newell Smith, President.

*Meeting now in learned circles
Aztecs carrying out the question
Speak with knowledge of the ages
Of the rulings of their people
Of the warriors now in battle
Of the varied fields of interests
Of the thoughts of all the tribesmen
While the singers of sweet music
Singing first of peace and freedom
Song of life and death undying
In the Islands of the Blessed
And the writing of the council
Kept for all the glorious record
Entered in a book, the TALISMAN*

*To the tribal shows and gathering
All amongst us lend their talents
To the Pow Wows and the dances
Gather young and old for laughter
And the wise ones telling stories
Are regaled by acts innumerable
And so the social minded warriors
Find release from all their worries
And find the joys all mortals seek*

Due to the illness of the president of the Junior Class, Jack Sandman, the vice-president, Newell Smith, escorted the Queen of the Prom, Louise Alexander.

JUNIOR PROM

1. Jes hear dem sisters groanin'
And hear dem brothers moanin'
On Revival Day!

MINSTRELS

2. The choir gal say amen, but the glamour gal--she say ah--men!
It's gone! It's gone! It's gone!

MINSTRELS

3. You should never ask questions you cannot answer!

4. Introducing our funny men of the evening, we have Smokestack, Drumstick, Buzzsaw, Cornfritter, Blackfoot, Sorghum, Possum, and Gumwad.

5. And there stood 'dat great big black bear ' dat chased me clean from July to January!

The antics of the varied character types in the play result in many side-splitting situations.

“Every Family Has One”

The main action of the play centers around the preparations for a wedding which go completely awry before matters come to a satisfactory conclusion.

Back: Robert Rudolph, Martin Schrepfer, Donald Gray, Betty Engle, Barbara Folkers, Margaret Galbreath.

CHUCK RAGER

Peoria's most valuable football player

*By their prowess ye shall know them
These our athletes called the Iroquois
On the fields between the goal posts
Here the Mohawks brought us glory
On the diamond round the bases
Here the Oneidas vanquished all foes,
On the track our speedy Hurons
Swept like wind past all who faltered,
On the courts stout-hearted warriors
Known to us as the Cayugas
Sent their ball like singing arrows
Through the target swift and true
While in all our varied conquests
Wild Comanches led our cheers
Led the warriors on to battle
Through our four most glorious years*

ATTENTION WOODRUFF STUDENTS

The Class In Home Economics (And Happiness) Will Come To Order For An Intelligence Test.

Q: If the meat Mom serves isn't as tender and fine flavored as the family wishes, where should she try to find meat the entire family will approve?

Q: If you have an older sister or brother getting married and starting a home, what grocery store should they try to live near?

Q: If Mom likes "home-dressed" fowl all ready for the oven or to be cut up for frying, what meat market should she visit?

Q: If you like shopping at a Grocery store where you are treated like a friend, what store meets that requirement?

Q: To what store can your younger brothers and sisters be sent on shopping errands with assurance that they will be treated as well as adults?

IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO MAKE A PERFECT GRADE IN THE ABOVE TEST, COME TO THE MAYHALL GROCERY AT E. McCLURE AND ATLANTIC AND WE WILL TELL YOU THE CORRECT ANSWERS TO ALL FIVE QUESTIONS.

These Bradley students, Woodruff High School graduates, join with Bradley's president, David Blair Owen, in extending GREETINGS FROM BRADLEY TO THE WOODRUFF HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1946.

Serenaders at North Hall, one of Bradley's seven women's dormitories. Campus life on the Hilltop is rich and varied . . . Homecoming bonfires and stunt shows, the Spring Festival, Parents' Day, the brilliant proms, or leisure hours at the student union soda fountain or in the browsing rooms.

As a medium sized institution, Bradley combines the wide choice of courses of the large university with the intimacy and personal attention of the small college. In addition to the general college program, Bradley offers specialized training in art, business administration, engineering, home economics, industrial arts, music, teacher training, and others.

Among the many interesting traditions associated with Bradley Commencement Week is the ceremony in which the scarlet velvet "mantle of learning" is passed from the shoulders of the highest ranking senior woman to the highest ranking junior woman in a Class Day ceremony conducted by the junior-senior class presidents.

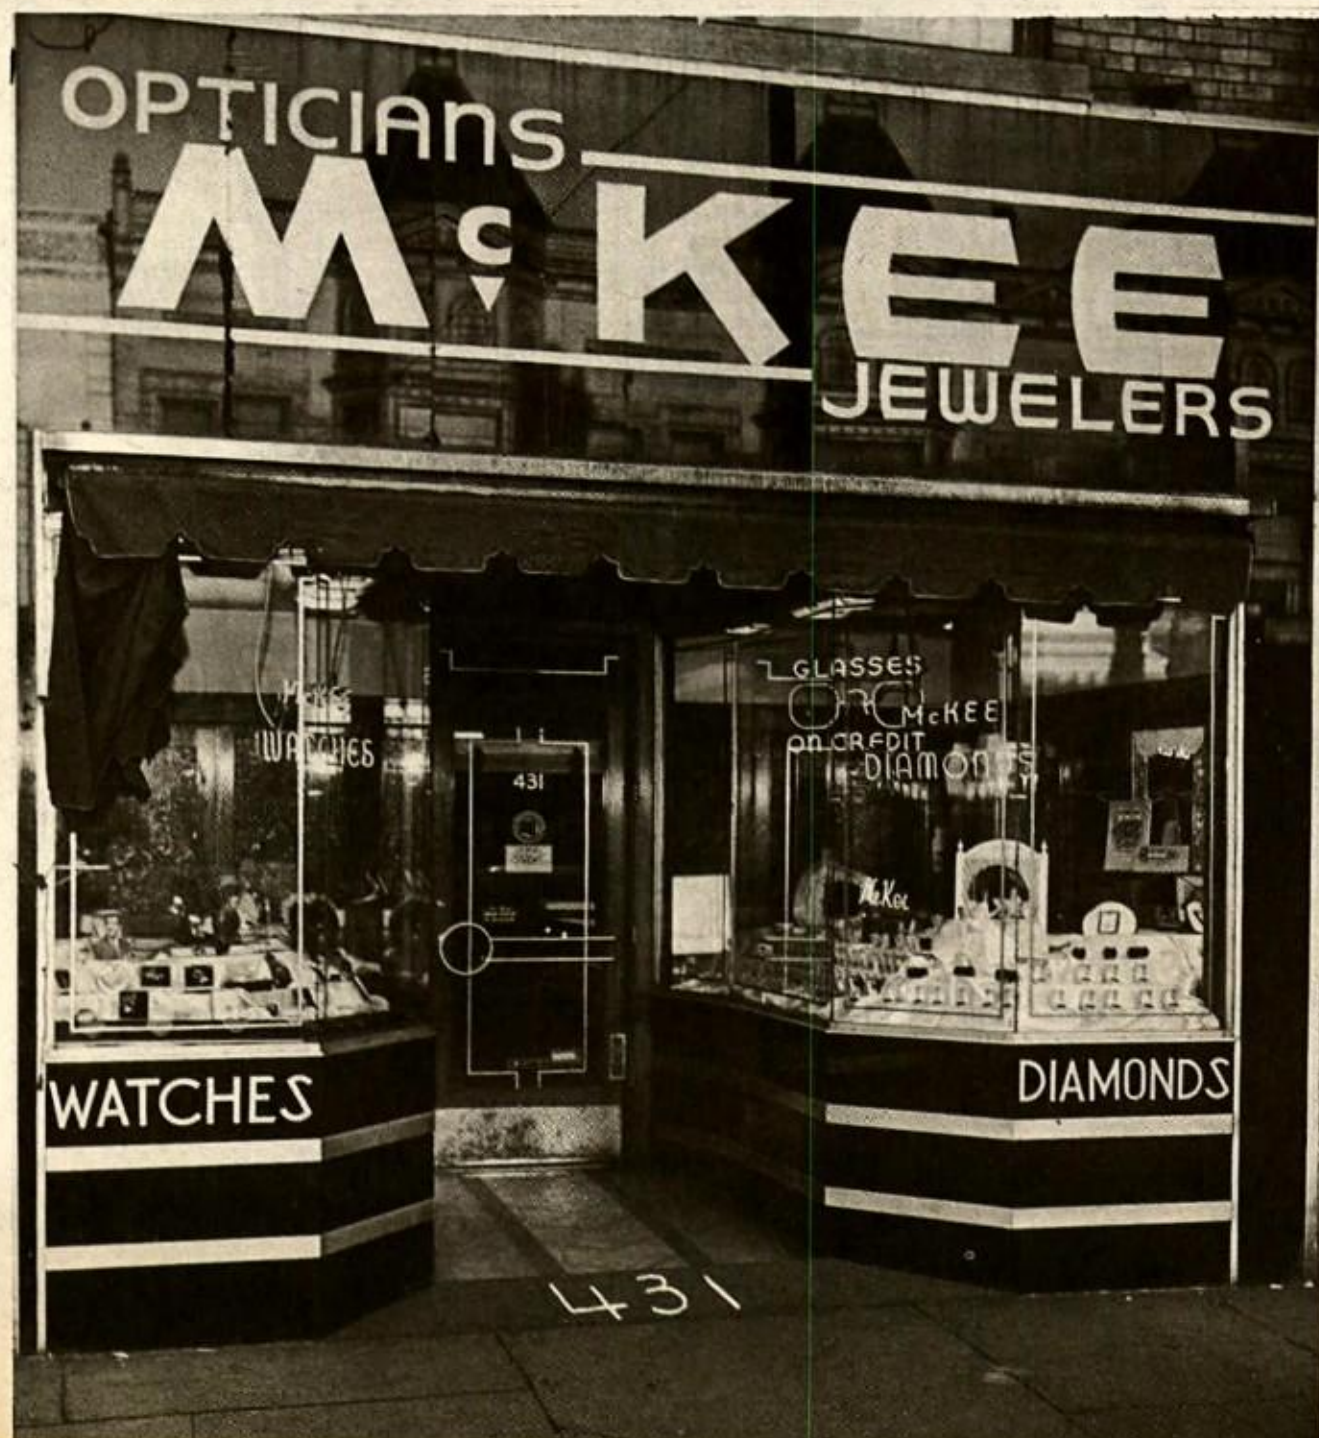

The 100-voice Bradley A Cappella Choir, which has broadcast over the leading coast-to-coast networks and which goes on frequent concert tours, is but one of the many types of student activity which flourish at Bradley. Others include many honorary fraternities, social organizations, college publications, clubs, dramatic groups such as Mask and Gavel and Theta Alpha Phi, and other musical organizations.

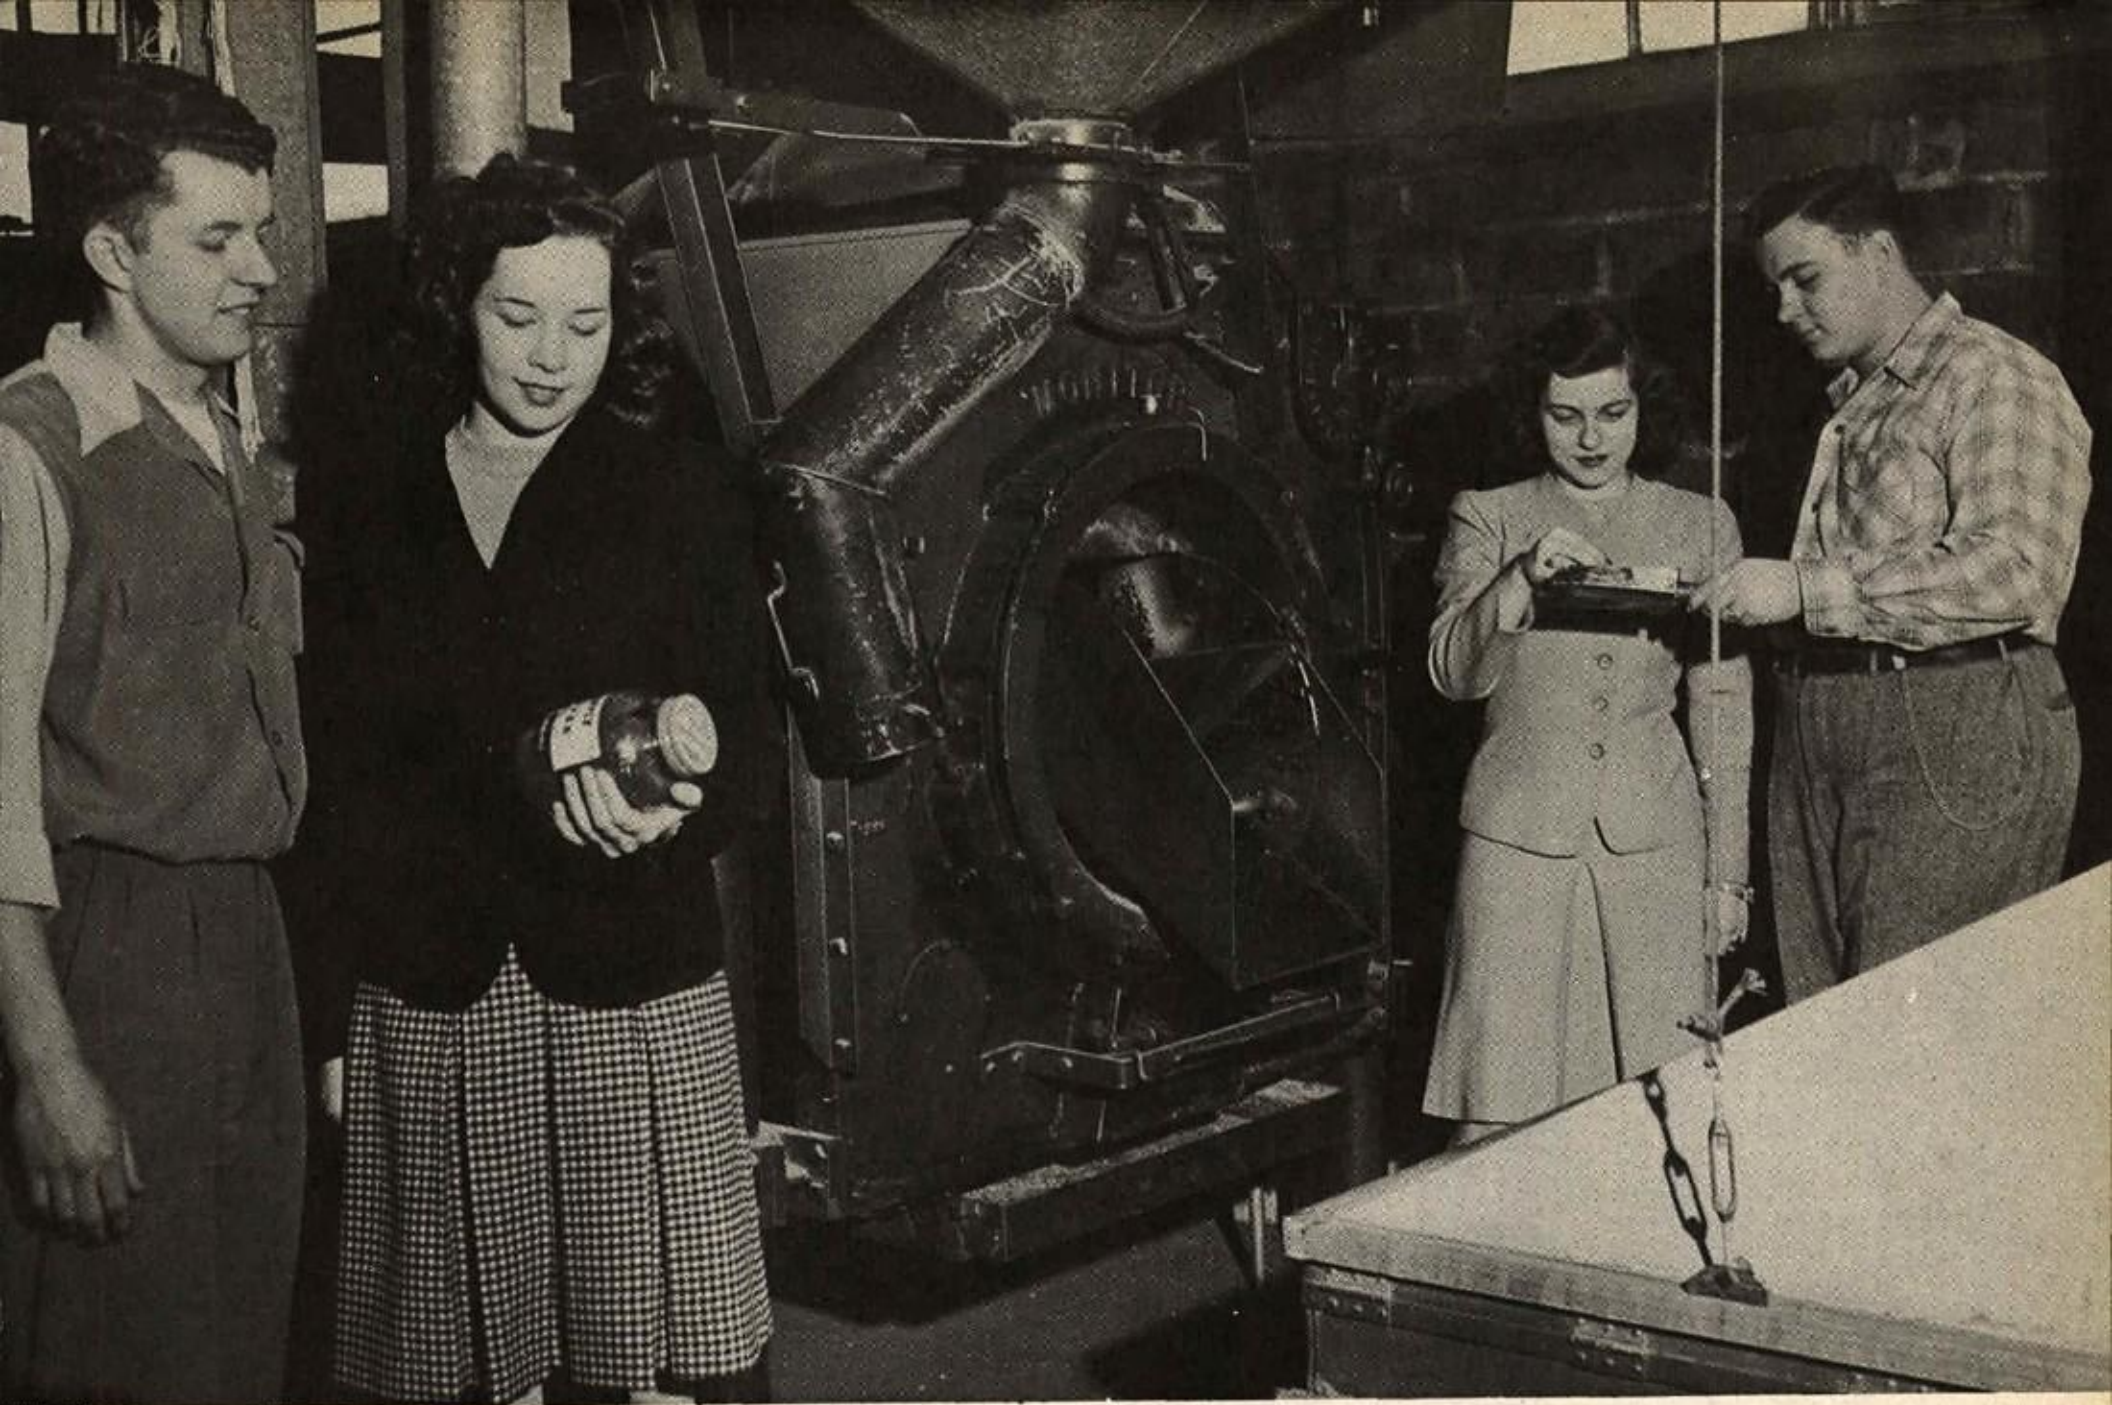

Summer Terms June 17 and July 25

Fall semester opens September 9

HEATS or COOLS

Today your Gas Company is working hand in hand with science and industry to further improve industrial development and bring better living into every home. Recent developments have included COOLING as well as HEATING with gas. Refrigeration and Air Conditioning for Summer and Winter are applications of COOLING with gas. Natural Gas is the ideal fuel for COOKING and WATER HEATING. Readers of this year book are welcome at any time to consult with our engineers and home economists regarding the many uses of Natural Gas in their homes.
